Calling all volunteers!

Would you like to see one of our shows without paying a cent? When you volunteer to usher or sell concessions you get to see the show for FREE!

If you are interested please contact Workshop Theatre at WTVolunteer1@gmail.com to volunteer at one of our performances.

Acting School Spring classes

The Workshop Theatre School of Performing Arts will be offering several classes and workshops this spring. In addition to the wide variety of classes, the acting school also offers individual lessons including acting, dance, and voice lessons.

For more information be sure to visit workshoptheatre.com. Classes are available for both children and adults.

How to reserve your tickets

There are a variety of ways to reserve tickets for shows at Workshop Theatre.

We recommend reserving your tickets on our website at workshoptheatre.com, by mailing in the ticket order form on this newsletter, or by calling the Box Office at 803-799-6551. If you miss us by phone be sure to leave a message and someone will follow up with you.

Tickets are NOT available at Columbia College prior to the day of the show. Currently we are not offering in-person ticket purchasing at our Elmwood location. We apologize for any inconvenience this may cause.

Jake's Women

Moving, funny look at relationships

Workshop Theatre is excited to kick off the 2018-2019 season with Jake's Women by Neil Simon, from January 25 to February 3.

Jake, a novelist who is more successful with fiction than with life, faces a marital crisis by daydreaming about the women in his life. The wildly comic and sometimes moving flashbacks played in his mind are interrupted by visitations from actual females. Jake's women include a revered first wife who was killed years earlier in an accident, his daughter who is recalled as a child but is now a young woman, his boisterous and bossy sister, an opinionated analyst, his current wife who is leaving Jake for another man, and a prospective third wife.

David Britt returns to direct this moving comedy. Damien Garrod makes his Workshop Theatre debut in the role of Jake. Workshop veterans Lou Boeschen, H. Loretta Brown, Riley Campbell, and Raelyn O'Briant are joined by Jennifer O'Briant, Melissa Frierson, and Dee Renko in the roles of Jake's women.

General admission ticket sales begin for members on January 16, and for the general public beginning January 18. Tickets can be purchased online at workshoptheatre.com or by calling the Box Office at 803-799-6551 from noon to 5 pm during the week. On the weekends, the Box Office opens two hours before the show begins.

Tickets are also available at the door the day of the show.

Memberships are now available for the 2018-2019 season. You can become a member by calling the Box Office or by visiting the Workshop Theatre website.

Brooke Wyeth returns home to Palm Springs after a six-year absence to celebrate Christmas with her parents, her brother, and her aunt. Brooke announces that she is about to publish a memoir dredging up a pivotal and tragic event in the family's history – a wound they don't want reopened. In effect, she draws a line in the sand and dares them all to cross it.
